

Mondo was 23 years old and an officer of the NCCF. He had graduated from Creighton Prep and attended Creighton University, but stopped taking classes after his freshman year for financial reasons. His friends were mostly college students or recent graduates. He worked for the anti-poverty agency, Greater Omaha Community Action. Mondo did not have a relationship with 15-year-old Duane Peak.